UNIFORM PATROL

The uniform force provides 24-hour "wide-awake" protection and service by being constantly on the street and on the move. This vigilance is not only for persons who violate the law or who unlawfully interfere with the rights of others, but also to respond to calls from citizens who need help of any kind.

Some of the time consuming services rendered, and highly important to those involved, comprise:

Accident Investigation
Aid To Sick and Injured
Birth of Babies Attended
Children Allegedly Mistreated
Children Playing In Street
Defective Streets Reported
Doors Found Open
Family Troubles Settled
Fighting Stopped

Homes Checked During Vacations
Icy Road Intersections Salted
Lost Children Located
Mail Delivered
Mentally Ill Persons Aided
Missing Persons Located
Neighbor Troubles Settled
Noises Investigated
Special Notifications Made

No other city service has a work load comparable to the uniform force. The citizenry depends upon the man in uniform and he solicits their cooperation.

Major changes in traffic enforcement were instituted under the pressure of increased vehicular registration and a mounting accident toll, both fatal and personal injury. The daily assignment of a motorcycle task force began in September, 1964 with selective enforcement concentrated in the areas of high traffic accident incidence. This task force is designed to cover rush hour periods and is charged with the responsibility of education of the public through warnings and enforcement through citation contacts.

During 1964, a large traffic bureau planning map was developed. This map is coordinated with grids corresponding to departmental tabulating procedures so that detailed accident data can be plotted and planning for projected enforcement and education is then based on actual accident patterns. Improvement of our traffic safety record is the constant goal and reminder which is stressed as the responsibility of all police officers so that Milwaukee may again become the safest city of its size in the Nation.

DETECTIVE BUREAU

The big problem confronting investigators during 1964 was the ever-increasing case load for which no additional manpower had been provided.

This unit is charged with the investigation of all criminal offenses throughout the city. The ways and means employed by these investigators has suppressed organized crime in our city and recorded an increased clearance percentage of major criminal offenses during 1964.

The Detective Bureau continued to earn its part of the fine reputation held by Milwaukee for civil peace and order which was given national attention in an article entitled "How One City Keeps Its Streets Safe", September 28, 1964 issue of the weekly magazine, U. S. News & World Report.

Chief Breier initiated a program to publicize that "parental responsibility" is the No. One weapon in fighting juvenile crime. Juveniles accounted for an 18% increase in 1964 of major crimes known to police. That juveniles are responsible for this increase is substantiated since statistics reveal a 26% increase of juveniles arrested for major crimes in 1963 and an additional 17% increase in 1964.

VICE SQUAD

Under the administrative control of the First Deputy Inspector of Police, the Vice Squad is charged with the responsibility of investigating and suppressing gambling, prostitution, narcotics, and other vice crimes. This squad is comprised of such number of plainclothes officers and policewomen as the Chief of Police may from time to time designate and is under the operational supervision of a Captain of Police and two Police Sergeants.

Close vigilance of Milwaukee's 1916 licensed taverns is maintained through centralization of reports required of any arrests or warnings given to licensed persons or involving licensed premises. The Common Council has cooperated with the revocation of licenses where a pattern has been established of prostitute - male patron contacts.

The successful suppression of vice crimes is dependent upon a close liaison with the uniform patrol division and the eyes and ears of the citizens of Milwaukee.

Vice Squad officers talked with a dancer at a downtown night club. Officers from the Vice Squad as well as the district stations are sometimes assigned to look for possible violations in taverns.

YOUTH AID BUREAU

The Youth Aid Bureau is charged with the review of all violations of laws and ordinances committed by children. This is accomplished through use of juvenile reports and juvenile referrals submitted by any member of the Milwaukee Police Department. The pattern of increase noted in the past decade was again reflected in 1964 activities, since 13,936 juvenile reports were compiled, compared to 10,731 in 1963.

Youth Aid Bureau personnel are assigned and held accountable for the knowledge of juvenile activities detrimental to their well-being. The policewomen are particularly responsible for investigating and locating missing girls under the age of 18, and are required to determine the causes of absence and where their time was spent while being away from home.

A 17 year old runaway from a school for delinquent boys was questioned by patrolmen. Both officers requested their assignments to the Youth Aid Bureau.

HARBOR PATROL

Two motorboats patrol waters of the Milwaukee River and Lake Michigan, inner and outer harbor areas, which include waters inside the breakwater, the rivers and dock areas within the City Limits. Officers assigned are charged with performance of regular police duties and enforcement of State Statutes and City Ordinances pertaining to boating.

Following is a summary of the activity of the Harbor - River Patrols:

TRAINING & SPECIAL SERVICES

Specialized training for all officers during 1964 encompassed the areas of field interrogation, patrol, arrest, search and seizure, police photography, auto theft, conduct at crime scene investigations, interrogation of principles and witnesses, crowd control, and first aid and transportation and treatment of burn victims. Other significant information was also disseminated to all officers attending.

Inservice training class size was reduced during 1964 by a new program of conducting three hour sessions of approximately sixty-five (65) personnel each.

A 40-hour course of supervisory instruction was given to 32 newly promoted police sergeants during the year.

102 recruit officers graduated from a 360-hour course of instruction.

Also two groups of school crossing guards, totalling 95, were trained before assignment by the Milwaukee Safety Commission.

11 newly appointed police aides completed a course of general instruction and were assigned mornings to the Milwaukee Institute of Technology for one year to further their education and to work afternoons in various police clerical duties.

The Underwater Investigation Unit of the Department had 10 special assignments in which they recovered many objects concerned with criminal and other special requests, culminating in 59 hours of underwater searches. Volunteer officers of the diving unit also participated in 20 training sessions in 1964.

PROPERTY BUREAU

The Property Bureau is under the supervision and administrative control of the Administration Bureau. This service section is responsible for the safekeeping of all lost, stolen, unclaimed property taken from prisoners or held as evidence and all other property coming into the possession of the police department. It also has the additional workload of warehousing and distribution of police department forms, supplies and equipment.

The comparison below of Property Bureau activity for 1964 to that of a decade ago, reveals the typical increased demand for police service:

IDENTIFICATION - RECORDS

The Bureau of Identification is one of the service units of the Department providing a wealth of information readily available to line personnel.

This Bureau consists of the fingerprint, photo, handwriting, arrest record and tabulating sections, each performing a specific need from a single, centralized unit. Statistical information is efficiently supplied through the utilization of modern electronic data equipment.

Some of the 1964 highlights of the enormous workload connected with providing this information are:

Prisoners processed.....	8,805
Applicants for various city licenses.....	11,627
Arrest cards added to file.....	106,035
Fingerprint cards added to file.....	10,892
Dead bodies identified through fingerprints	80

Photographic prints made.....	46,650
Handwriting identifications.....	377

A forged check was examined by the chief document examiner. He has 120,000 handwriting specimens filed and classified.

COMMUNICATIONS

Modernization was the keynote in the Communications Bureau in 1964. Installation of a new centralized switchboard at Headquarters began by telephone company utilitymen. The new board when in operation will replace three switchboards presently in use.

The new dial system and switchboard are only a part of a new communications center complex being planned for Headquarters for radio dispatching and telephone facilities.

Monies have been appropriated for the communications center and planning and specifications for radio dispatching equipment have been written.

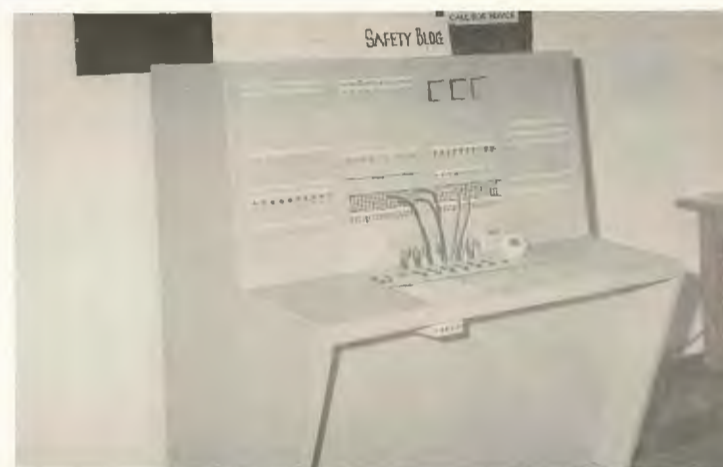

Other progress in the planning stage includes:

New communication repair shop facilities

Revision of radio base transmitter system

Future expansion to improve aid to law enforcement

In addition to responsibility for providing all forms of communication within the police department, the Bureau supervises and maintains the radio systems of the Fire department, Water department, Milwaukee County Sheriff's department, and that of City government.

Display of telephone equipment to go into use in 1965

INNOVATIONS — TRAFFIC CITATION ACCOUNTING

On January 1, 1964, manual ledger recording of traffic citations was discontinued in six district stations and traffic bureau.

Tabulating division began accounting for citation books issued to officers, all individual citations issued, preparation of delinquent traffic citation notice forms and audit controls.

The tangible effects of the first year of tabulated citation accounting are noted below:

Total Citations Issued During 1964..... 363,369

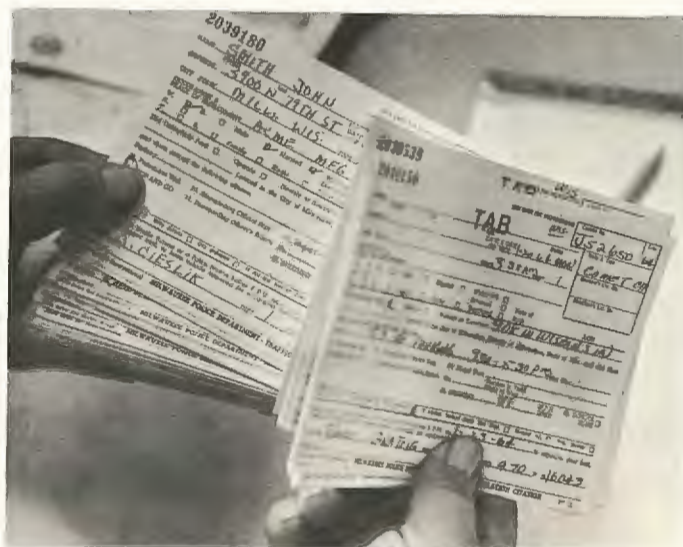

Citation Status as of 12/31/64:

Stipulated or Other Court Disposition..	270,415	(74.4%)

Totals.....		100. % 363,369

Strengthened accounting control of citations issued.

Released certain patrolmen to street duty in the district stations and traffic bureau.

Increase noted in traffic citation collections.

Our goal is to help prevent repeated juvenile crimes as well as a return to parental control being effected.

INNOVATIONS

—MAIL ROOM FACILITY

In March, 1964, centralization of incoming and outgoing mail was effected. Mail runs between district stations and headquarters are now made three times daily by a police alarm operator who also relieves at the switchboard.

Mail for offices located at police headquarters can be picked up at the mail room during specified hours of operation.

The mail run also collects cash and traffic citations from outlying stations for which custody receipts are given. The mail room is then responsible for daily deposit of monies with the Clerk of Courts and City Treasurer.

This program established stringent control and responsibility over transportation of monies, traffic citations, and reports.

—U. S. MAIL DELIVERY OF LICENSES

In July, 1964, United States mail delivery of all licenses granted by the Common Council was initiated. Prior to this time, all licenses were delivered personally by police patrolmen to the licensees. This time consuming and burdensome task was eliminated through suggestion submitted by the police department and then study and coordinated effort of the city departments involved.

—NIGHT PARKING PHONE DESK

In October, 1964, the telephone requests for permission to park a vehicle on the street for one or two nights was centralized and separated at Headquarters from the police emergency switchboard. This was accomplished by means of a special night parking phone no. 273 - 8670, manned at a four-position telephone location between the hours of 6:00 P.M. and 2:00 A.M.. Each night the requests are logged and routed to the officers on patrol and then filed at the district station by license number.

The centralized night parking phone desk has relieved the police switchboard of answering and routing 800 to 1,000 calls each night and has resulted in increasing sales of $4.00 special privilege night parking permits by more than 1,000 monthly.

Full benefits of this program have not been reached since all citizens are not yet aware of this separate police operation and continue to call the emergency police number.

R. Tarczynski

J. Kwiecinski

Patrolman John J. Orlikowski, awarded Class "A" Citation.

For his great courage, outstanding police work and devotion to duty. While covered by two gunmen, he attempted to disarm one and was shot twice. At this point, Officer Orlikowski realized that given another chance, this man would kill him, and he reached down to retrieve his service revolver, picked it up and fired left-handed, double action, while nearly overcome with pain and shock from his two bullet wounds. He managed to fire four shots at his attacker before he was too weak to continue. The Officer thought he had missed, because the man was still able to flee the scene with his companion.

Later, when the two holdup men were apprehended, it was discovered that one was recovering from three bullet wounds received from the shots fired by Officer Orlikowski. Warrants were issued against both of these holdup men, charging Armed Robbery and Attempt Murder. Patrolman Orlikowski's actions were also instrumental in the subsequent arrest of more than six men and the complete clearance of numerous previous Armed Robbery Offenses.
